

Hello.

I hope this message may find you well. I am a person who likes to enjoy life at the most; taking advantage of any chance or opportunity given to me. I love spending time with my friends, having fun, going to walk in the parks, exercising at the gym, cycling, walking around the city, exploring new places and enjoying the sun when it's out. I'm also a world traveller (been to 15 countries so far). My favourite places are the ones where I can stay on the beach during summer. My hobbies include cinema, TV series, books (huge Harry Potter and super heroes fan), listening to pop music, stay at home chilling, etc. My personality is very introvert. I'm quiet and shy, but when I get confidence I can be the best friend one can have and trust. I love my family so much, which is the hardest part of living abroad. The distance is a challenge, but we're always in touch and I try to visit them in Brazil whenever I can. I have made many of my dreams come true and I owe that to them. At University I studied Languages - Portuguese/English and got my Bachelor's degree. At school, grammar subjects were my favourites and the ones I had more skills. I also have knowledge of Italian and Spanish. I really hope you have a happy life and stay close to your loved ones.

Hi,

I hope this message finds you well. The decision of becoming a donor was in order to help other people fulfill their dreams, but also make a good purpose of my life. We always should be kind to others to make this world a better place. Once you find a purpose in your life, make sure you and the others around you get the benefits from it.

I really wish you have a happy life. For that, it's nothing hard. Just stay close to the ones you love, make more of what brings you moments of happiness and always pursue your goals and dreams, until you used all your resources to achieve them.

With love
