I am black man with dark eyes, a shaven head, a beard and usually a big bright smile. I was born in Britain but heritage is half Jamaican and half Seychellois. I am a creative individual with a broad sense of humour. I work hard and I play hard, I really value balance and my time, I try to make sure I save enough for those I care about, as I am very sociable. Empathic and political, I care about the world and people who are having a hard time. I create opportunities via the connections I make which have taken me to all sorts of places. I am very adaptable and flexible, but strong willed and confident. I had a Christian, but also progressive upbringing, fortunately in a very loving, supportive and stable home. Large extended family who I am also well connected with mostly. Have loved playing sports throughout my life and being active, team sports like Rugby and Football, skiing, snowboarding, surfing, climbing and combat sports from childhood into adult life. Not overly competitive, I just love it and enjoy a challenge; I like to better myself but don't waste my time comparing myself to others. I am an Artist, Marketing Manager for charities and an educator. The people I meet throughout life and the experiences I have had make me feel rich and blessed. I think kids are great, have worked with them a lot, honorary uncle to many, they bring joy to life and a new perspectives.

Good will recipients

I did this because a friend had a beautiful baby girl via a donor and she is so happy. I want that for others too. I have always wanted my own children but haven't yet, but expect I will one day soon. I am glad to be able to help others start a loving family and home. Very honoured if you choose me, I wish you and your future family all the best.

Good will for children

Hi, I guess you are 16 now if you are reading this, Happy Birthday! How has your life been? Mostly fun and filled with love I hope. Maybe you have lots of questions, maybe you don't, both are fine, but if you did want to meet me I would be incredibly honoured and you will always be welcome. This is your decision alone to make, like many others you will have to make and have made already. I made the decision to help your parents have you because they desperately wanted a family, I am sure they have explained the whole situation to you by now, who I am, is but a small part of your story and identity depending on what you believe. My advice should you want it, is to be open minded, try new experiences, be kind to others and try to be a good person, in the long run it makes things much easier and it is the right thing to do. People are complex, take time to understand them, but also, it is good to be selective and surround your self with good people. Don't be afraid to ask for help when you need it, everybody needs a little bit of support at some point. Don't forget to believe in yourself too. I am really glad I was able to help your parents have you. I hope you have had a happy childhood and upbringing. My only wishes for you is that you be happy and health and that you strive to achieve the same for others. If you ever feel the need to meet me, would be honoured. Best Wishes.
