

Hello there! If you are reading this must be because you still curious about me so let me try to describe myself a bit more. Let's start for my family. We are four: mum, dad, my younger sister and me.

Each of my parents have four brothers and sisters so we are a lot of people when we get together and for the moment I still have three of my grandpas. I was born after the father of my dad had died. To describe my family in a few words I will say that they are noisy, funny, passionate and that we love and protect each other a lot.

About my self...

Well, when I was a babe I was round and cute. When I started to grow up, I became tall and thin. For the moment the only way to put weight is by doing exercise. So I never worried about diets. I dress quite practically: my trousers always have pockets, I normally always wear boots or sandals and a t-shirt and I'm not too much afraid of the cold so I don't really have warm clothes.

So just imagine someone who looks like a rock person - tall, thin and with long hair and you will have and average idea of how I look normally.

I've never smoked and that something that I'm quite proud about.

I'm quite relaxed, have a good imagination, and a particular sense of humor. I like to keep myself active with sports, games or whatever comes up. I really like to try new experience - the more crazy or funny the better. Because I like to try new things I normally don't get too far at any of them. So for example as kid I did swimming, football, hiking, judo, old Spanish fencing, drawing and more.

School for me was a bit complicated maybe, but not bad. I get distracted easily (more so if I don't have an interest on the subject) so that makes the studying part a bit difficult. Not too much of a problem for the practical parts. I ended up studying cooking and now I'm working as a chef

As a hobbies I like games, from board game, card games to computer ones. I have played Warhammer (board game), magic (card game), diablo (PC game) and a lot more. I listen to a bit of everything but I normally prefer heavy metal or rock music. I used to read a lot, mostly fantasy books. But right now I'm more into mangas and animes.

I don't believe in any religion. I think they are useful to give a peace of mind but there are better ways to achieve the same.

My parents, martial arts and all the stories about heroes make me try to be always respectful and helpful with the rest of the world.

I've always been an eco-friendly person and I think it is really important to get more serious about these things.

I hope with all of this you get a better idea of me and I hope you are enjoying your life.

Hello there,

First of all congratulations for lasting this long. I hope you had an amazing life and if not, don't worry you can always turn things around if you work for it. So if you want some advice from me, I will tell you this: Be curious, stay active, follow your dreams and always have respect for all the things. Well, I wish you all the best.
