Hi,

And welcome to my pen sketch. To describe myself, after completing my masters in economics and marketing, I work as a digital specialist now and studying psychology as my second university degree. I am a very friendly, honest and focused individual. The most important skill I consider is tolerance and empathy towards others and the most important thing for me is freedom. From my childhood to adulthood, I always enjoyed swimming, biking (sports in general), creative activities like baking, cooking, house decorating and DIY, events organising, painting, nature, city, family and friends times. I was always quite hyperactive. I love traveling, have traveled through Europe by hitchhiking, studied in Prague and Helsinki and settled now in London (living with my partner and a beagle dog) as I feel the best in this diverse metropolitan city. I love all, spring, summer, autumn and winter and the change of weather is paramount to me. I would say I am quite muscular, and I move a lot, but with a combination of loving food and sugar in general, this is sometimes a struggle. Ah and I really enjoy spas, especially in cold winter months when traveling to my homeland's mountains covered in snow as well as swim in the Mediterranean (or English sea) during hot summer breaks. Generally, I am a very lucky and happy person, who loves to help.

Hi,

Welcome to my goodwill message. If you read this it means you either consider me to be your donor or you are my future offspring. In both cases, I have decided to donate for a simple reason and thus to give something to the world and help you. I'm a gay man who always wished to have children and family and I understand that sometimes having children is not as straightforward. Hopefully one day I will be able to give a roof to some adoptee too. I would ask just one thing from the future parents, be kind and understanding and love your child the way it is and support it fully in any craziness it comes up with as in my life I had quite a free hands in doing what I wanted and I feel I have learned and achieved a lot so far because of that. If I would have to give some words of wisdom to my 18+ offspring, I would say that whatever you do you are great and unique, so don't compare yourself to others as no one will ever be as special as you and dare to dream big, never stop. Also, you are more than welcome to reach out to me at any time (I will be probably sitting in a retirement chair at that point:D and I would actually be really happy if you would. For both your parents and you I hope you are living your best life, with love. ■
