Donor Goodwill Message to Offspring

Thank you for taking the time to read this message.
I sincerely hope that your life up to this point has been filled with happiness, excitement, and good times.
It is not my place to offer advice, but for what it's worth, I believe life is about balance. So, I'd say, do your best to give 100% as you strive to achieve your goals in life, without forgetting to enjoy each day and moment, taking the opportunities to explore and grow when you feel comfortable to do so.
I am honoured to have played an incredibly small role in your life & and wish you joy and every success as you move into adulthood.
