I am a 5' 7" male, I have brown eyes and dark brown hair, I am white and fully Italian. I am a practical minded guy with good spatial awareness and great reactions, I find it easy to respond in all situations. I am very opinionated and enjoy learning new knowledge to back up my opinions. I am a qualified chef and enjoy challenging myself. I like travelling but I haven't had any opportunities recently. I have been brought up to always be polite and respectful, I believe I am a good person with a good soul. I am catholic but I don't follow it entirely. I personally love my life and have tried to take every opportunity life has given to me; I believe life is a gift that you should not waste. I live life respecting everybody and trying to deliver the best I can give. I like taking part in charity events. I participated in the [REDACTED] Marathon in 2021 and am planning to do more. I was originally born in [REDACTED] Italy [REDACTED]. I will start by saying my childhood was great. My parents did the best they could have done bringing me up with my four brothers and one sister. I was lucky really and still am to have the family I have. Also, a lot of family and friends was a great support that helped mould me into the person I am today. I'm easy going and honest. I have a keen interest in Italian, French and English languages. I also like fantasy movies. Since my childhood I always helped my family to work in the farm in Italy, supporting each other. This life carried on and for the sake of my family I didn't have enough chances to follow my dreams/hobbies. My family have a hard-working ethic and we have always supported each other. I moved to England when I was [REDACTED] and I started working in a stock room and made my way up in retail. Although today I am doing something completely different and working as a caretaker in a primary school. However I love my job and being surrounded by children. I am always willing to learn new things such as watering, cooking, gardening and farming. I am a positive person and very enthusiastic. I always try to keep a young mind. The reason I decided to donate was so that other families can benefit and start a family. I believe our family blood line has good genes, I [REDACTED] have never been seriously sick or needed medical treatment. I enjoy listening to pop/classic music, and like artwork. I love to be in nature and learn about it. I am good with children, fun and approachable. I am a normal down to earth guy and like to treat others as I would like to be treated. Life can be hard, however the important thing is to never give up and be positive because with hard times come easier times too and this mean to be grateful for what you have.

Goodwill Message for Recipients

I started this process so that I could help people such as yourselves to obviously conceive a child after having seen what joy and love children bring to their parents. I decided it was something that, if able, I would do. I'm pleased you are considering that I could well be the donor for you. At the time of writing this I have no children of my own but recent decisions and event could mean that's about to change in the near future. I wish you all the best with your future prosperity, I hope it brings you all the success you started out to achieve. I've learnt from this donation program what a lengthy process IVF and such treatment can be so good luck!

Goodwill Message for Children

So, I'm sure your parents told you that you were donor conceived when they deemed you old enough to understand what that meant. I was just a small part in the process of bringing you into this world. It's your parents that went through a longer journey. As I'm writing this, I'm trying to think of something profound or insightful to say to you; but now I'm here, I'm stumped really. I will say to you though, never take your parents for granted. Family should always be the most important thing in your life. I hope so far life has been kind to you and will continue to prosper going forward to whatever you decide your future to be. I am sure that you are an extraordinary young person, and so privileged to have such courageous parents who have gone to such lengths to bless you with the love and support you have been given. I suppose I should tell you why I made the decision to donate to a stranger. Well, I have witnessed first-hand the heartbreak a couple goes through when they need help in getting pregnant. I personally wanted to be a parent, but my life took a different turn and as we know sometimes things may not go the way you plan it. Just remember to have fun along the way and make those good memories count. I myself have travelled a lot and you might do the same and I advise you to see as much of the world as you can and if you choose to, it will help broaden your horizons for sure. Take care. All the best and if you can't be good be lucky. If one day you would like to contact me, I have no problem doing so, we can meet and talk, I'm sure that will be very nice for all. I hope that you have a great life and lots of experiences and look forward to hearing your story someday. I am always available, if you wish to get in contact, I'm sure I will enjoy meeting you.
